

We are proud to announce that Mattioni has received the distinguished honor of being awarded the 2011 Super Service Award from the top service provider review site on the web, Angies List. This award recognizes a sustained level of excellence in service throughout the past year, reflected through consistently high grade values (Angies List uses a school-type grading system to rate businesses) and customer reviews. Only the top 5% of service providers on Angies List are eligible to be considered for this award, and even fewer actually receive it. The Super Service Award is Angies Lists highest honor, going to only the very top rated businesses of the year overall.

Angies List is a reputable and prestigious community site where users provide reviews of all types of service providers, from contractors to health care professionals. It is a fast-growing and important resource for people who are researching the quality of services in their area. Angies List prides itself on authenticity, security and fairness, allowing only paid subscribers to submit reviews (and only so often at that) in order to prevent spamming and skewed results. They discourage anonymity, and businesses cannot pay to achieve higher standing or remove negative reviews. It is well-managed community where people go to help each other get informed on major decisions, from home renovations to specialized health care needs.

To receive Angies Lists highest recognition of sustained outstanding service in the form of the Super Service 2011 Award is a trusted reflection of our commitment to serving our community according to the absolute highest standards in the areas of plumbing, heating, cooling and bathroom remodeling.
